

HOW TO ORGANISE YOUR OWN SWISHING PARTY

Get a group of girlfriends to blitz their wardrobes and decide what they would like to exchange. This could be clothing, shoes, bags, accessories or jewellery.

Decide on a venue and date and send out invitations.

Encourage your guests to bring a friend or two, the more variety you have in outfits, styles and sizes the better.

Display clothing and accessories on shelves, rails, chairs and doors - whatever space allows. Be creative - arrange clothes in sizes or by type.

HOW THE SWISH WORKS

People arrive, add their items to and spend some time rifling through the goodies laid out over a glass of wine.

Decide the starting time for the swish - maybe an hour or so after the guests have arrived.

Once most of the people have arrived, explain the rules and announce the starting time.

Countdown to the Opening of The Swish

THE RULES

Everybody must bring at least one item.

When it opens whatever people take is theirs.

No money should be exchanged - all swishable clothes are free to whoever claims them first.

If two women are fighting over the same garment then toss a coin, or the equivalent. Be firm and fair!

No-one can claim items as their own before the swish is declared open.

REMEMBER LADIES: NO SCRATCHING, SPITTING OR BITING!